Why are you interested in leading this section?

I have spent most of my career working in reinsurance and have recently moved to Bermuda to take on a consulting role with Willis Towers Watson. Bermuda is a well-known and well-respected global hub for reinsurance capacity and we have seen a seen an increase in the number of life & annuity reinsurers on the island.

I would like to share my experience on how Bermuda can help with many of the current issues facing our industry and highlight some of the trends in Bermuda.

Why are you interested in leading this section?

Primary reason is that I wish to give back to the profession and industry by contribution of my knowledge and background. It's an exciting time in our industry as we go through unprecedented rapid change and I would be thrilled to play even a small role in that advancement by actively participating in the section. Originally from Canada, it would also be great to meet other actuaries and expand my network in the US.
