A Message from the President-Elect...Think NAAJ

by Rob Brown

As the 1999-2000 president-elect, I recently chaired my first Council of Section Chairpersons. Even before this meeting, my impression of the Sections as the SOA leadership's main connection to the grassroots of this organization was that your contributions are vital to advancing the profession. And, I came away from the meeting even more impressed with the heavy lifting the Sections do. Your hand on the pulse of your practice area assures solid continuing education content for our meetings. Your focused publications and sponsorship of relevant research and other SOA projects are hitting the mark for our members.

I am especially impressed with your publications. I receive — and read — copies of all the Section newsletters, plus the commemorative monographs produced by the Sections for the 50th Anniversary. What a volume of work, pertinent to so many practicing actuaries! My immediate thought was that much of this material is worthy of going to review for the North American Actuarial Journal (NAAJ).

WHY THE NAAJ?

The NAAJ is the premier publication of the Society of Actuaries and its only refereed journal. Two myths about the NAAJ are 1) that it is only seeking scientific research done by Ph.D.s, and 2) that if an article has already appeared in another publication it can't be published in the NAAJ. In fact, from the beginning, the NAAJ has hoped to have a mix of scholarly, scientific papers, articles practical for today's practicing actuary, and wider topics that would appeal to nonactuarial readers. The "Guidelines to Authors" in the NAAJ states that "In general, we are looking to publish papers in the NAAJ that provide a springboard for the further development of education, research or improved practice." Much of what I see in the Section newsletters certainly meets that criterion, and I believe would have a good chance of being accepted by the NAAJ. The only truth to the second myth is that you cannot submit an article that has appeared in another refereed journal or that is copyrighted by another organization. Articles in other SOA publications are certainly eligible.

Many practicing actuaries today have limited time to write articles and may think the NAAJ process is too daunting. But, I've been through the process, and it is relatively painless. Why not look through what you've written for Section newsletters or The Actuary and consider submitting your best work to the NAAJ? You can find guidelines on the SOA Web site under "Publications" or you can request them from Sheree Baker at 847/706-3565.
