

To the members of the Casualty Actuarial Society and Society of Actuaries:

The Casualty Actuarial Society (CAS) and the Society of Actuaries (SOA) leaderships met to discuss issues of importance to their respective members and the actuarial profession. This discussion continued the ongoing dialogue between the organizations to identify mutually beneficial opportunities for collaboration that support and promote the profession. While no immediate new initiatives or joint activities were identified, the discussions did identify areas for further exploration. Both organizations agreed to continue these discussions where they may be productive and beneficial to members.

Sincerely,

Gary R. Josephson
President, Casualty Actuarial Society

Tonya B. Manning
President, Society of Actuaries
